

Basil, an incumbent freshman at Prestigious University, finds himself struggling to connect with other students and falling behind in the classroom

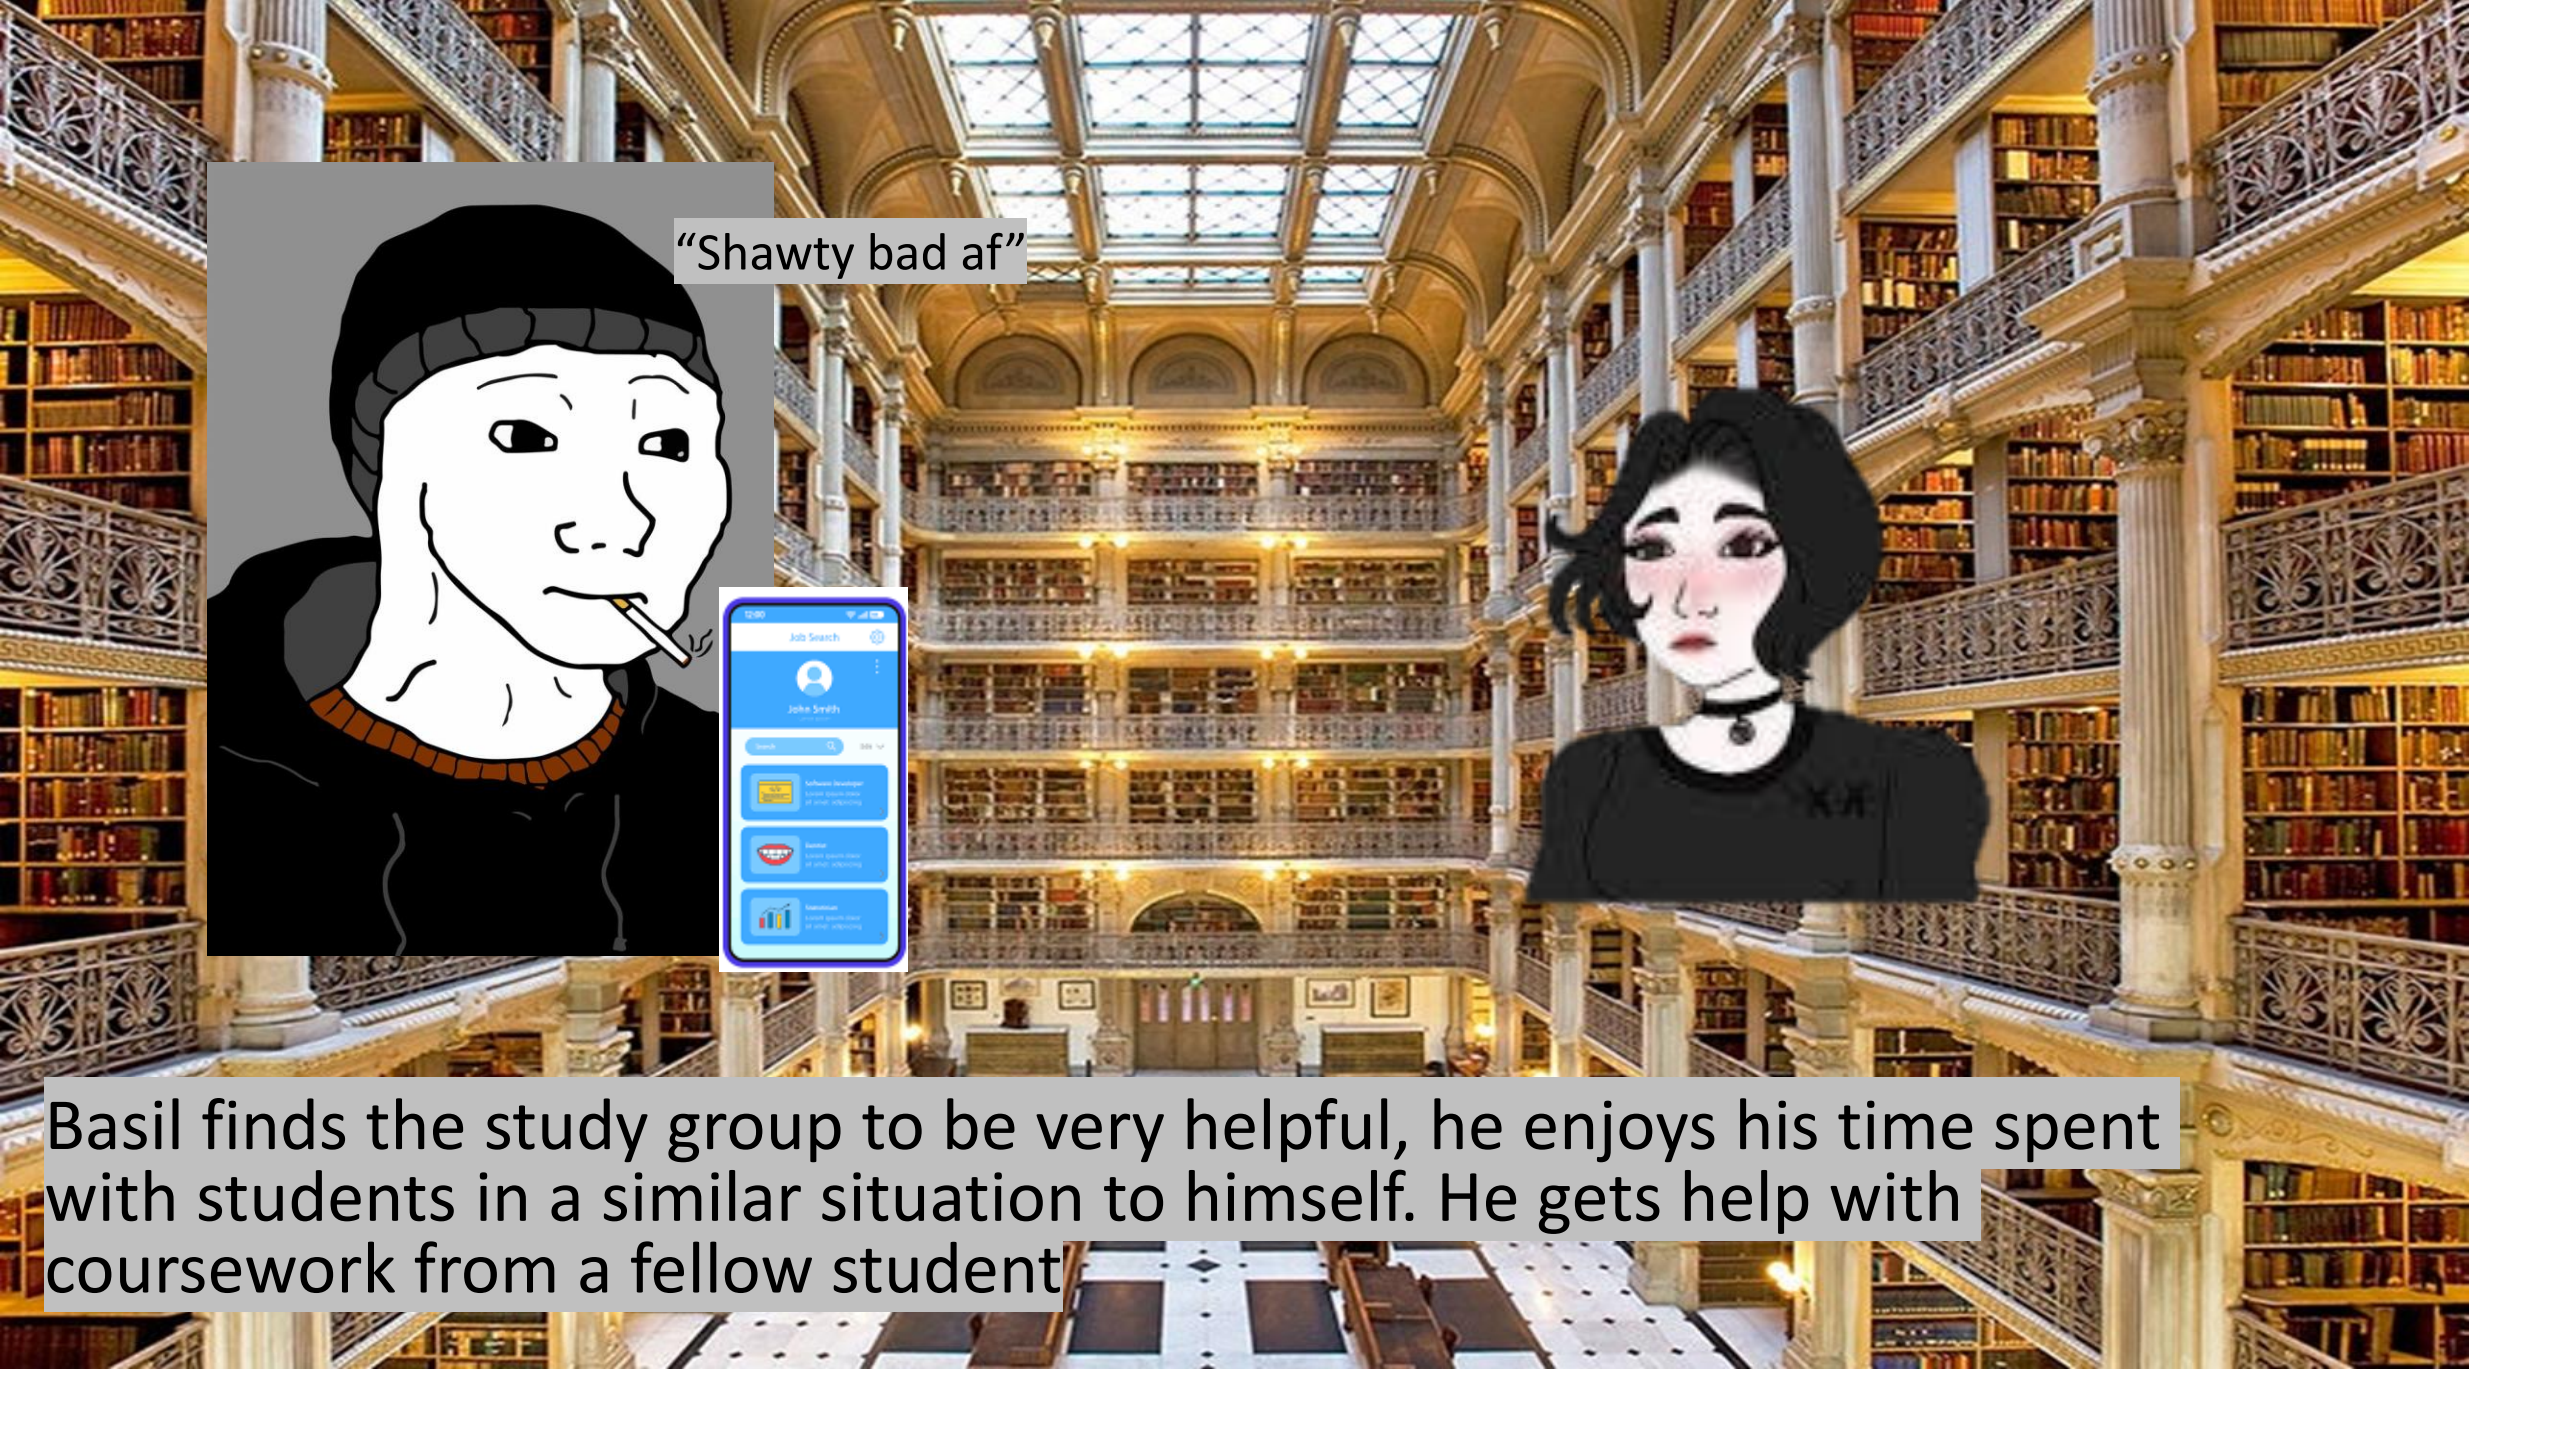

Basil receives his most recent exam back, sadly he has scored poorly and fears he will have to drop out and return home

Rather than accept his fate, basil downloads an app to help him locate study groups on campus. Reluctant to attend due to his social anxiety, he goes to the campus library in order to connect with tutors for his class

"Shawty bad af"

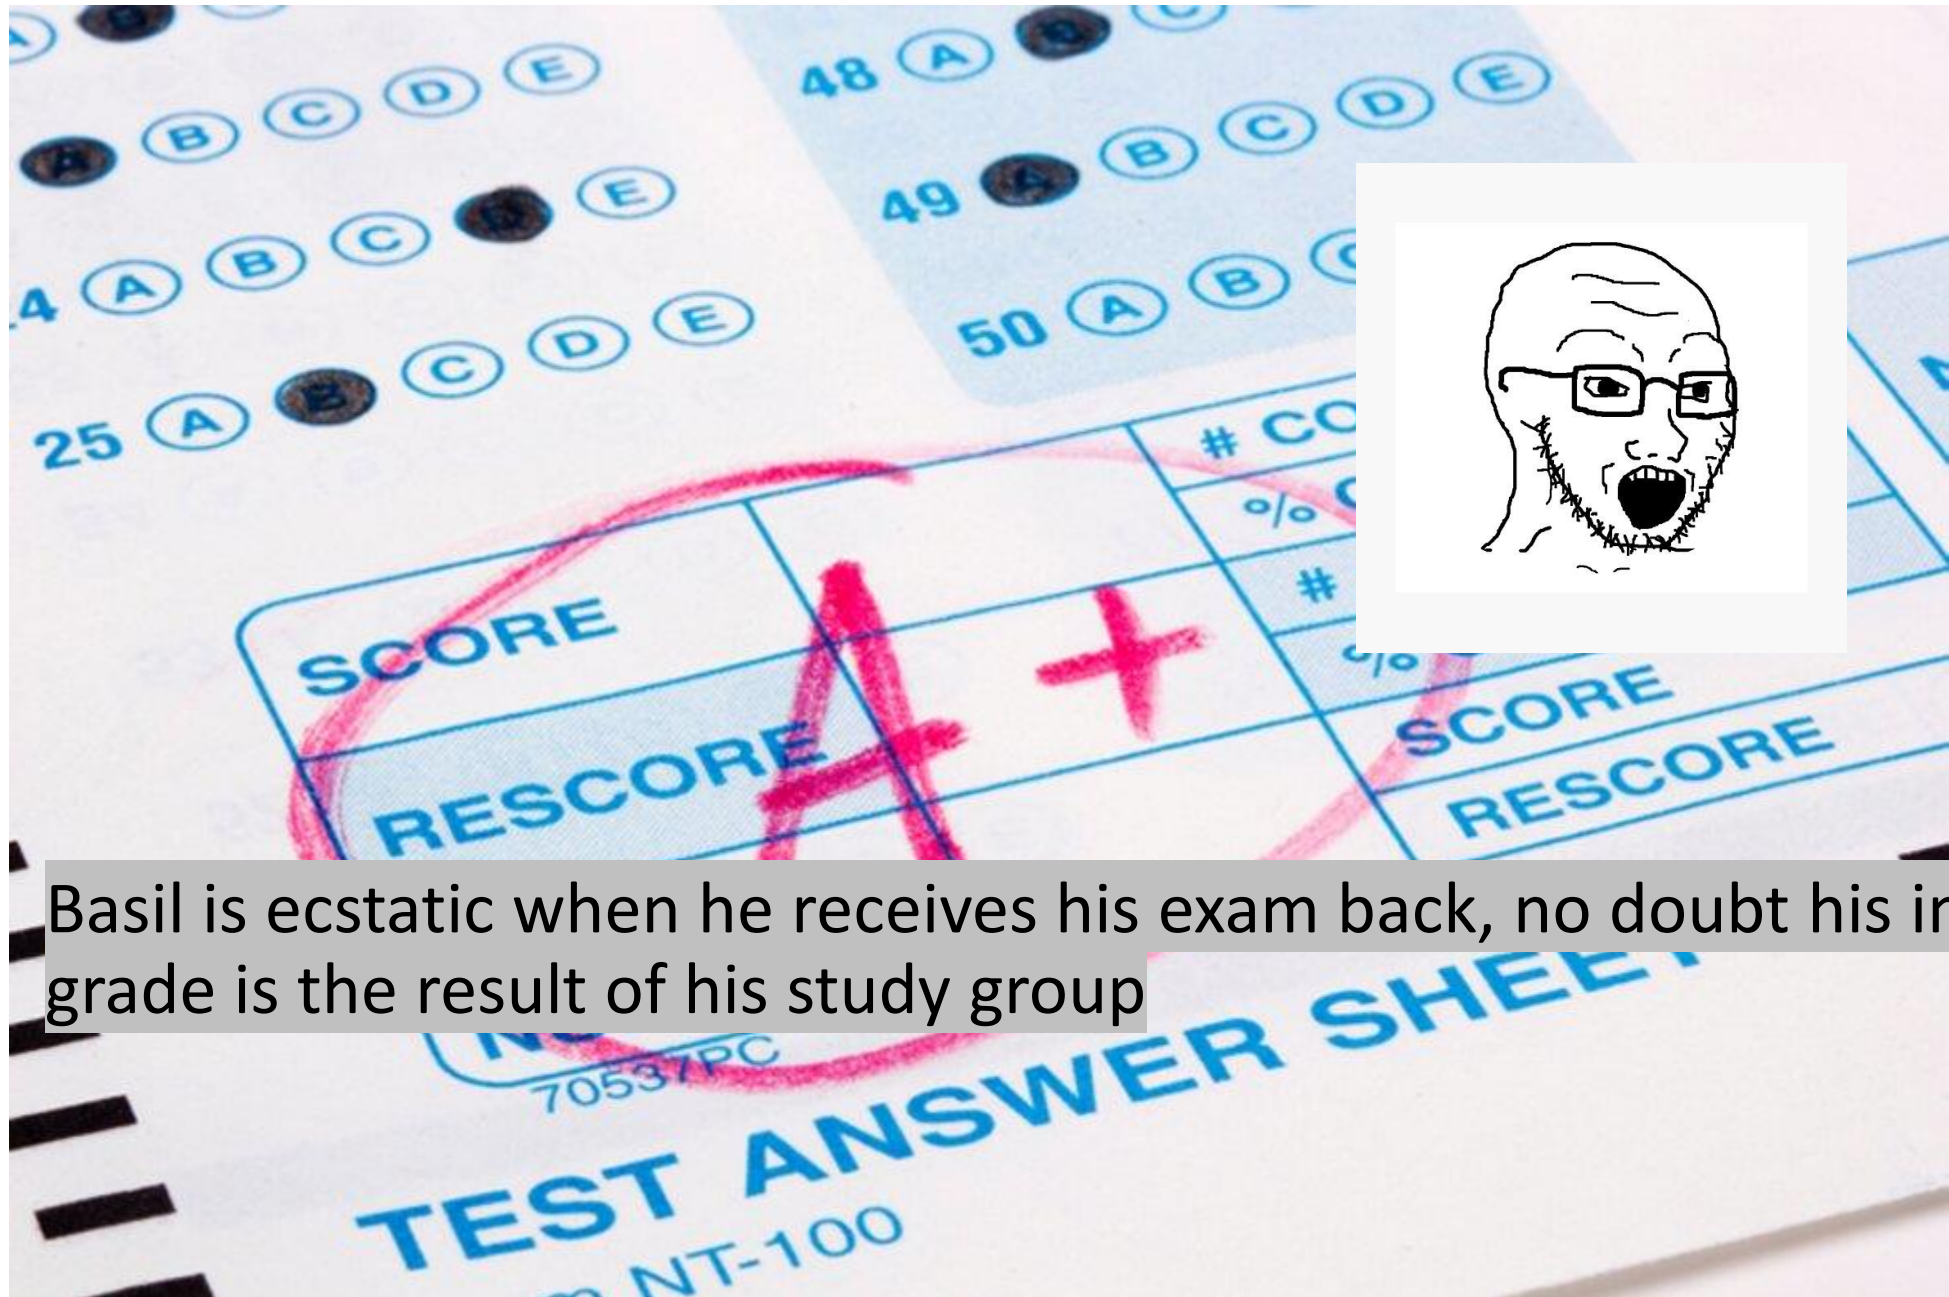

Basil finds the study group to be very helpful, he enjoys his time spent with students in a similar situation to himself. He gets help with coursework from a fellow student

Basil returns to the classroom for his second exam, optimistic he can achieve a better grade.

Basil is ecstatic when he receives his exam back, no doubt his improved grade is the result of his study group

Basil stays at Prestigious University, now more confident in his academic ability and with a new group of friends